THE DIFFERENCE YOU CAN MAKE

(Author unknown)

Intent of the Story

- Any one of us is unique
- Each person has a place in God's plan
- Even, if one of us would be missing, our world would be incomplete
- > Though God does not need us. us, still He wants all of us

The Story

A disgruntled person remarked. "After all, what difference would it make for the world, if a person like me had not been born? "

A wise man retorted: "Of course it would. I'll show you through a little story about my typewriter.

My typxwritxr is a good modxl. Most of the timx it works wxll, though I havx troublx with just onx particular kxy...still that kxy doxs makx a diffxrxncx and it ought to bx fixxd.

IN somx ways, our socixty is likx that typxwritxr, it sxxms to work most of thx timx, although not all thx kxyx function as thxy should.

Surx, you'rx only onx individual and it is xasy to convincx yoursxlf that your contribution is a minor onx, and that thx rxst of our society won't xvxn noticx.

But soicxty functionx bxst whxn xach of us is conscious of having bxxn chosxn for somx spxcific work in Gods ovxrall design. What you lxavx undonx most likxly wont gxt donx or will bx donx poorly, for god has givxn you alonx all that it rxquirxs to do that spxcific job, howxvxr small and insignificant.

So rxmxmbxr, its only you who can makx the diffxrxncx and hxrx lixs your happinxss. God blxss you!!!"

Explain:

- > Does a single letter missing in the typewriter make a difference? .
- Thank God for making you, you,
- > There is no other you in the entire universe.
- ➢ You are not duplicable.
- You are not a copy but an original.
- > After God created you He broke the mold.
- ▹ Love your uniqueness.
