

THE DOG IN THE MANGER

(From Aesop's Fables)

Selfishness

Neither enjoying the things we have nor allowing others to enjoy them.

Unconcern for others

The Dog in the manger policy..

A Dog lay in a manger, and by his growling and snapping prevented the oxen from eating the hay which had been placed for them.

"What a selfish Dog!" Said one of them to his companions; "He cannot eat the hay himself, and yet refuses us to eat it"
