

WHEN TO REPENT?

Rabbinic story.

Live as you would like to die.

Such life, such death

Repent every “today”

A Rabbi was walking along with some of his students when one asked, Rabbi, “When should a man repent?”

The rabbi replied, “You should repent on the last day of your life”.

The student went on: “But we cannot be sure which day will be our last”.

To that the rabbi smiled and said, “Then the answer is simple. Repent today and every next day!”
